

GREAT Theatre Video Audition Submissions

We do accept video audition submissions!

Please sign up for an available audition time slot and submit your video to grace@greattheatre.org by the time of your scheduled audition.

To ensure that your video audition is a success, please adhere to the following guidelines:

1. Use a phone, laptop, or camera to record yourself. Horizontal orientation (landscape) is preferred.

- Find a wide open space without tripping hazards, noise, or distractions.
- Stand where the camera can see your whole body. A "straight ahead" angle is best. Don't angle the camera very high or very low.
- Avoid backlighting. It will wash you out and make you hard to see
- Image quality matters. You don't need to use a professional camera, but we need to be able to make out details like facial expressions
- Make sure you have enough memory/battery on your device before you start filming
- Make sure your phone won't lock while you're filming
- Consider having someone else film you

2. Slate yourself!

- That means tell us your name and what pieces you're using for your audition.

3. Read your monologue selection.

- Speak loudly and clearly
- You don't need to be "off script" but looking up (at the camera) is good.
- Emote! Treat the camera like it's acting opposite you.

4. Sing your song choice.

- Feel free to play accompanying music, but be warned: the audio in your video may become garbled if you play a track loudly in the background. Consider singing with the track turned down, or with headphones in.

5. Perform the choreography.

- Memorize the choreography to the best of your ability and perform it in front of the camera.
- This is where it's important for your whole body to be in the frame.

6. Upload your video to YouTube OR send a Google Drive Link.

- Uploading your audition video to YouTube ensures that it won't be corrupted or lost in the process of emailing it to us, and helps to mitigate the frustration that comes with sending and storing large video files.
- Make sure that the video is unlisted (not public, private, or restricted), or else we won't be able to view it.

7. Send a link to your video to grace@greattheatre.org.
