

All auditioners:

Say each 'dude' in a different emotion or context:

'Dude, dude, dude, dude, dude. Like I said before: Dude.'

Additionally, you may also choose one of the following lines:

Option 1: (pg 25) I can open a store right here in this very tunnel! A store with hats and... all kinds of different clothes! A place where every-mole can come and try wearing whatever they feel like! And I'll call it... The GAP! Nah. I should come up with a good name! Oh, I know. My store will be called: "Hats... And More!"

Option 2: (pg 39) Fun fact: cargo pants have "Pock-a-dock-a-rock-a-pocks"! You can carry pretty much anything you want around and still have your hands free. Granted, they're not exactly stylish, but they are practical for, y'know, dads and stuff...

Option 3: (pg 39) Why can't you just let things stay as they are? We have everything we need! We have a morning song! We have LYRICS! Now, suddenly, you want to wear stuff? Nothing even rhymes with clothing!